Webinar: 11:00am, Thursday – November 18, 2010

Colorado Automobile Dealers Association

The key measurement for believable and accurate inventory performance analysis!

How much time do you spend concentrating on all those confusing reports and indicators pumped out by your DMS concerning your parts inventory? Are you suffering from pure data over-load? Measurements are not necessarily bad, but they can be confusing and counterproductive. Chuck Hartle has developed a simple measurement that can tell quickly whether or not your efforts to manage your parts inventory are effective.

Visit with Chuck as he explores and explains his "Purchase-To-Sale Ratio", a measurement that yields the best data for evaluation of your inventory performance – all in one reporting method! This single and easy to produce report will unlock the data and help improve your overall inventory performance.
