Part I: One Toke Over the Line! Medical Marijuana at Work

The use of medical marijuana is skyrocketing. Amendment 20 was passed in 2000 allowing persons to possess and use marijuana to treat some medical conditions. Between 2008 and June 2009, the number of applicants for medical marijuana doubled to 10,000 applicants. Currently there are over 13,000 valid medical marijuana cards that have been issued and only 29 applications have been denied. Applications are pouring in at the rate of 400 per day. The number of dispensaries selling marijuana for medical use has more than tripled and is the latest entrepreneurial craze.

Highlights of topics included:

- Can your employees use or possess marijuana in the workplace?
- What should you do if a drug test comes back positive for medical marijuana?
- What if the employee is "disabled"? How are Medical Review Officers handling positive tests for marijuana?
- Can your employee brag to other employees about their medical marijuana use?
- You'll hear latest legal guidance on medical marijuana vs. laws.

Part II: The HIRE ACT: Tax Breaks for Hiring Unemployed Workers

On March 18, 2010, President Barack Obama signed the Hiring Incentives to Restore Employment Act (the HIRE Act). This jobs creation incentive bill contains more than $17 billion in tax credits to stimulate employment, including $13 billion for employers hiring and retaining qualified workers. This session will discuss the two new incentives.

Highlights of topics included:

- You will learn what is needed for a new hire to qualify for immediate payroll tax exemption
- You will learn what is needed for the employer to receive a tax credit for retained workers
